The story began in 1953 when Katherine Watson (Teacher Art and History) arrived to Wellesley University.

The first day of classes she were afraid, she started with the class but all the students answered everything and anybody likes her.

Her Boos said that she has to be strong and with more discipline in next class, at the same time she was sad missing her boyfriend.

At 2nd class she was more secure than last class and students ask frequently but she answered everything, students were surprised. That day she met an Italian Teacher (Teacher Dunbar).

She helps Joe and gave her inscription application to Yale's School, then Elizabeth Warren get married with her boyfriend. Days After she went with her students to a museum to see artistic gallery, their students were surprised.

Principal's says to Katherine that her method is orthodox and it has to be a little modern, Jhon is accepted at Yale School and she told Betty who isn't happy about that new.

Betty always discuss with her husband, Paul wants to get married with Katherine, she doesn't feel comfortable with that and its confused.

Betty and Katherine fight. Next day students made a Party and they invited Katherine, they asked her personal questions . Another day when she entered to classroom students were expected because she has more discipline and that class was special because she made a meditation with her girls.

She feels stupid and angry because she doesn't want to prepare women to be wives. She wants people to be a leader in future.

Teacher Dunbar and Katherine began a romance, Connie and Charly were boyfriends but they broke by Betty's influence.

The principal condicionate the work of Katherine, Betty divorced and she says sorry to Katherine.

Mrs. Katherine says that she comes to make change and see the world with new eyes, all students love her and she will never forget her students and they will never forget her.

Conclusion

I think this movie calls Mona Lisa's smile because she always was smiling like Mona Lisa. This movie is very interesting because give us an example of what kind of teacher have we to be. Make a difference is our work because we are a model for our students, use new methods to learn is ok but we have to take the decision to be different.
